

Yes, you will notice that it is a little pongy so best not to mix it in the house! This is because the friendly bacteria are anaerobic and they are smelly by nature, but just think how much good they do!